PEACE AT PRESENT,

Continued from Page One, Column 1) bring with success a gigantic indemnity that will recomp all their vast expenditures. Taking merely the economic view of such a contingency what would the business man advise? It is hardly surprising, under circumstances, that the great body of opinion in the financial world is in favor of immediate war. Let it come as the less of the two evils and have it over. Another argument is that Great Britain and France are in far better condition for war, financially, at the present that Germany. Their banks were gever in better shape, while Germany is in poor shape, financially, for a sudden emersiate the succession of the s shape, financially, for a sudden emer-whence, mancially, for a sudden emergency.

We have concrete proof in the foregoing of the truth of the saying in these days of enormous armaments.

"When war becomes cheaper than peace, then war must come." These views are not exactly entirely foreign to political and diplomatic circles also during these past few days. Six Experience of these past few days. during these past few days. Sir Ed-ward Grey will undoubtedly pursue his efforts to secure a peaceful so-lution of the Austro-Servian quarrel, because Russia's abject attitude makes it practically certain that she will remain passive even if Austria con-quered and annexed her small neigh-bor. That, of course, would be a great step toward the realization of the German-Austrian ambition of reaching Saionica.

Demands of English Public.

There is no abatement in the public terms of the immediate construction of eight Dreadnoughts. Unless the government gives way a vote of censure on Monday will, of course, be defeated by a party majority. Then the question in one shape or another must come up in the Lords, and it is not improbable that the upper house will find means by a drastic measure, if necessary, to force dissolution. When the country gets a chance to speak the defeat of the present government will be over-

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the 'ecognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

More Than 20 Ingredients, -Roots, Herbs, Barks,-

Known to possess great medicinal value, are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Every physician must inevitably prescribe some of these ingredients in all blood diseases and in troubles with the stomach, liver and kidneys.

He must prescribe them because there are no others known to the profession. Hood's Sarsaparilla comprises all that are of any knownand-tested merit. And every one that we use is gathered at the season of its greatest medicinal value.

The wonderful power of Hood's Sarsaparilla is due:

1, To its peculiar combination of so many different remedies;

2, To the peculiar process by which the full curative strength of every one of them is extracted and retained; and

3, To the peculiar effect-purifying, appetitegiving and strength-building-that it has upon 99 out of every 100 persons who take it.

That it is an extraordinary medicine is further proved by its extraordinary record of cures. Cures of scrofula, eczema, psoriasis, boils, abscesses and all humors of the blood; cures of rheumatism, the prostrating after-effects of the

"I have great faith in Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it has done me so much good. I believe it is the very best spring and autumn tonic. Yes, the best blood medicine for any time of year. I take it whenever I get a little run down, and my system needs toning up, and find it always reliable and beneficial. My father takes it for rheumatism in his shoulders and arms, and says it helps him wonderfully. I am pleased to recommend so good a medicine to all my neighbors and friends." L. S. Ward, The Retreat, 61 Whittier street, Haverhill, Mass., Jan. 31, 1909.

"I am the youngest and only living son of Dr. J. Blackman, well known in Massachusetts. My father always recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla as the greatest blood purifier on earth, and I can certify to the same thing." Newton M. Blackman, Hotel Savoy, Danbury, Ct.

Be sure to get Hood's. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may Use Voice Naturally.

The Bishop of Liverpool makes a strong plea for the natural use of the voice in public service. He says he is tired of the droning of ecclesiastical services in high churches,

"Why," asks the bishop, "should a man to whom God has given a strong, melodious voice cast aside its natural use when in prayer, suddenly assuming an unnatural tone and rapidity of utterance sufficient to surprise meat of hig intimate friends on hearing it for the first time? Many clergymen are now agitating this same subject.

DAVISON.—Died, at the home of her parents, in Barten Heights, at 9:45 P. M., March 2, 1902, CARRIE ELIZ-ABETH DAVISON.

"Carrie is dead." The words fall like weights of lead on the hearts of all who knew her, for truly of her can it be said, "To know her was to love her." Her bright face and sweet smile was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact. To have known her was a privilege; to be blessed with her friendship was a benediction which will follow those of us who were so fortunate all the days of our lives. Little children loved her. Old and young allke were cheered by her words of sympathy, and the sunshine of her presence was felt wherever she went. Even in the last days of her young life, when, as it were, face to face with the Great Beyond, she was the same bright, sweet, unselfish girl, thinking always of others, and striving ever to do good. A bright light has gone out which has lighted many a darkened path, but we who loved her know that light is shining with undimmed splendor in the world beyond. Rare flowers sconest die, and dod has transplanted a blossom too frail and too fragran for this earth to His garden of eternal bloom. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." Breath perfumes should never be resorted to. They soldem concent the odor and never remove the cause, and are very suggestive.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges sweetens the breath he removing the cause—a If the society exodus continues by Easter London will be bereft of many galety folks. SNAPSHOTTING THE KING

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]

FARIS, March 27.—The Illustration publishes this week the photograph of King Edward walking on the parade at Biarritz. By his side can be seen the shadowy outline of a female form, the head of which is entirely effaced, but the dress is still visible, the general effect being similar to the so-called spirit photographs. This, however, it a genuine photograph.

The snapshotters at Hiarritz have feund out that King Edward objects to being 'Taken' in the company of a lady. He ignores cameras turned on him when alone or with male companions, but if his companion should be a woman, the snapshotter finds out of the King's suite sequesting him to castroy the plate or efface the lady from the negating. The latter has been done in most of the pictures pub-CAMPBELL.—In sad but loving re-membrance of our dear sister, MAY CAMPBELL, who departed this life two years ago, March 23, 1907.
